Re: Ex Parte Presentation in WT Docket No. 94-102.

Dear Ms. Dortch:

On March 10, 2005, John I. Taylor, Vice President, Public Affairs & Communications, LG Electronics U.S.A., Inc., and I met with Catherine Seidel, Michael Wilhelm, Nicole McGinnis, and Jeff Cohen of the Commission staff at their request to discuss the above-referenced proceeding.

While LG, the U.S. leader in CDMA handsets, is a recent entrant into the U.S. GSM handset market, the discussions generally concerned the potential future availability of GPS capabilities in GSM handsets and issues surrounding the provision of E911 services in rural areas.

Should any questions arise concerning this or if you would like any additional information, please let me know.

In accordance with the Commission's rules, the original of this filing is being submitted electronically.

Respectfully submitted,

/s/ Robert L. Pettit
